Overview

To see what effect changing your program of study would have on your progress toward a degree, you can run a "what-if" advisement report based on the alternate program of study.

Steps

Create a What-if Scenario

1. Navigate to: one.iu.edu.
2. In the Search box, type, "what if".
3. Click the What-If advising report icon.

You will need to log in with your Username and Passphrase if you haven't done so already.
4. Click CREATE NEW REPORT.

The Create What-if Scenario page will display.

What-If Report

Create What-if Scenario

You may be thinking of changing your program of study and wonder how that change would affect your progress. You can use this component to set up and request a simulated or "what-if" advisement report based on alternate programs of study. Click the Create New Report button to set up your what-if scenario.

Career Scenario

Select a career for which you want the change to take place.

Program Scenario

You can use the fields below to set up a what-if scenario one program of study and up to three area of study scenarios. If you want to remove a row, under Academic Program click "none." The system will not run reports for two different Academic Programs at the same time, however you may enter the same program twice and enter two Areas of Study to view a double-major scenario. If you are looking for a certificate, some are found under Program and plan type = major, and others are found under Program non-degree and plan type = major.

- [SUBMIT REQUEST]
5. From the drop down list, select the Institution, Career (undergraduate, graduate, etc.) and the Catalog Year (the term for which you want the change to take place). If the Institution and Career don’t need to be changed, leave them as they are.

6. From the drop down list, select the Academic Program, Academic Plan Type, Area of Study (major/minor) and Concentration (if appropriate).

7. Click Submit Request.

The What-if Report will be displayed with “Simulated Program” shown at the top of the report.

---

NOTE: Each school has its own repeat rules and these will not be applied to the simulation report. If you have repeated courses, the What-if audit may not be 100% accurate.

8. Click collapse all or expand all to collapse or expand the requirements and requirement groups. Click restore to return all requirements and requirement groups to their original state.

There is a list of icons used to indicate how each course was applied to this report.

Requirement Groups are displayed in dark blue while Requirements are displayed in light blue.

Create a Course Scenario

If you want to see how specific courses fit into your degree requirements you can create a course scenario what-if and then run your Advisement Report.

1. Repeat step 1 through 7 above.

If you are only running a Course Scenario What-if, you will not have to change the Program and Area of Study. These fields should default to your current Program and Area of Study.
2. Click [browse course catalog].

3. Select the Institution.

4. Click [search for a subject].

5. Select the letter for the Course Subject.

6. Click [select] next to the desired Course Subject.

7. Enter the Catalog Number. If you don’t have the Catalog Nbr, you can enter a Course Title Keyword or a Course Description Keyword.

8. Click [search].

9. Click select.
What-if Academic Advisement Report

10. Enter the projected Grade.
11. To add additional courses, repeat steps 3 through 10.

If the course applies towards the satisfaction of a requirement, it will display in the What-if Advisement Report with the entered grade (if applicable). This will be followed by a ? which indicates a What-if course.

If you enter a grade, the statistics will change to include the What-if Courses in the courses and units taken fields.

You can also run a Course Scenario using the courses in your Planner as the basis and then make modifications from there.
